SPOILS TO THE VICTOR

Born prince and heir to Thrace, Kyrian was disinherited when he married an ex-prostitute against his father's wishes.

As a legendary Greek general, he cut a trail of slaughter through the Mediterranean during the Fourth Macedonian War. Chroniclers wrote that he would break the Roman stranglehold on the known world and claim Rome for his own.

He would have succeeded had his own, beloved wife not betrayed him into the hands of his enemies. He was tortured for weeks and then executed by Valerius's grandfather.

Since regaining his soul, Kyrian still helps the Dark-Hunters as needed. But he is eternally grateful to Acheron for making him and his wife immortal after a vicious Daimon attack in their home almost took their lives while Amanda was pregnant with their eldest son, NJ.

TRIVIA: Tabitha stabbed both Kyrian & Valerius the first time she met them. Tabitha also taped Russell Crow's face over Kyrian's in his wedding photo to Amanda. Currently, he and Valerius have a truce for the sake of their family.
